Robert Oppenheimer,

- at the 200th anniversary of Columbia University put it this way:

He said that

- it's the proper role of the scientist that he not merely find a new truth and communicate it to his fellows.

But it's also the role of the scientist—Oppenheimer said—

- that he teach,
- and he try to bring the most honest and most intelligent account of new knowledge to all who will try to learn.

And surely this means inspiring future scholars in the classroom.

Jaeha Heifetz

the Great Concert Cellist

In his final years accepted an appointment as a teacher at UCLA

Why

He was asked why he had made this abrupt change

↳ But had moved from the concert stage

into the classroom

He replied by saying that ~~when~~ when he was a young boy in Rumania

His first teacher told him that if he practiced very hard

And ^{if he} become a great cellist

The ~~day~~ ~~that~~ may come

Sometime in the Distant FUTURE

When he would be good enough TO TEACH
